DEAR MOTHER I'VE COME HOME TO DIE.

Dear mother, I remember well The parting kiss you gave to me, When merry rang the village bell;-My heart was full of joy and glee. did not dream that one short year Would crush the hopes that soared so high! out of black and white sheep's woo!. , mother, dear, draw near to me; Dear mother, I've come home to die.

CHORUS. Call sister-brother-to my side, And take your soldier's last good-by O, mether, dear, draw near to me; Dear mother, I've come home to die.

Hark ! mother, 'tis the village bell ; I can no longer with thee stay: My country calls: To arms! to arms! The foe advance in fierce array! The vision's past. I feel that now For country I can only sigh; O, mother, dear, draw near to me, Dear mother, I've come home to die.

CHORUS. - Call sister, &c. Dear mother, sister, brother, all One parting kiss, to all good by ; Weep not, but clasp your hand in mine, And let me like a soldier die!

I've met the foe upon the field Where kindred flerbely did defy; fought for right-God bless the flag! Dear mother, I've come home to die. CHORUB .-- Call sister, &c.

Booth's Grave Discovered

New York, May 3.—The vexed question as to the disposal of the remains of Wilkes Booth, is at length settled by a statement which may be regarded as finel. After the head and heart, which have been deposited in the Army Medical Museum in this city, had been removed When sank old Sumter's battle stars and rose the corpse was placed in charge of two men who, after various movements calculated to baffle impertinent curiosity, dug a grave in a little spot of ground close to the penitentiary, where for some years the felous have been buried.
